

The Business Analyst Career Roadmap

A practical guide to understanding what you already bring, what to strengthen next and how to turn your experience into Business Analysis evidence employers can understand.

No IT experience needed

If you enjoy solving problems, improving how work gets done and helping people make clearer decisions, Business Analysis could be your next career.

YOUR ANDERSEED GROWTH JOURNEY

Your result is a starting insight - not the whole story.

Your assessment highlights the capability you already bring and the area where focused development could make the greatest difference. Strong transitions happen when experience, BA thinking, practical application and career evidence work together.

Your experience is not a detour. It is the seed.

You may already be using Business Analysis skills.

You do not need a Business Analyst job title to have relevant experience. The seed often appears in the problems you solved, the people you supported and the changes you helped make.

LOOK FOR THE SEED IN YOUR EXPERIENCE

CUSTOMER SERVICE / SUPPORT

Asked questions, listened for the real need and solved recurring problems.

OPERATIONS / ADMIN

Coordinated work, spotted delays and improved how a process ran.

FINANCE / HEALTHCARE / COMPLIANCE

Worked with evidence, risk, accuracy and rules that mattered.

SALES / TEACHING / PROJECT SUPPORT

Explained complex ideas, influenced people and kept work moving.

WHAT YOUR ASSESSMENT IS REALLY SHOWING YOU

Your overall score is only part of the picture.

Your result also considers Analytical Instinct, Transferable Experience, BA Development and Market Readiness - then identifies the growth area where greater focus could make the biggest difference.

YOUR FOUR SUPPORTING SIGNALS

01

Analytical Instinct

How you clarify ambiguity and frame problems.

02

Transferable Experience

BA-relevant behaviours already in your experience.

03

BA Development

Learning, exposure and practical development.

04

Market Readiness

How prepared your evidence is for the market.

Primary Growth Areas: Career Clarity | BA Foundations | Transferable Evidence | Applied Experience | Market Positioning | Interview Readiness

Four stages. One connected transition.

Wherever you are today, the value is in connecting what you already bring into one deliberate end-to-end Business Analysis story.

01

RECOGNISE

Understand what you already bring.

Recognise transferable behaviours, experience and knowledge that can become part of your BA story.

Where Anderseed helps: Career mentoring helps you identify and translate those strengths.

02

CONNECT

Turn separate knowledge into structured BA thinking.

Connect problem analysis, stakeholders, processes, requirements, systems and decisions across a change journey.

Where Anderseed helps: The 8-week live mentorship cohort connects the techniques, with mentor feedback.

03

EVIDENCE

Turn capability into work you can demonstrate.

Apply what you know to a realistic business problem and create evidence showing how you investigated, analysed and made decisions.

Where Anderseed helps: The 4-week guided portfolio project builds evidence for your portfolio, CV and interviews.

04

POSITION

Turn evidence into opportunities.

Connect your experience and project evidence into a professional story employers can understand.

Where Anderseed helps: CV and LinkedIn optimisation, the Signature Job Application Guide, career coaching and mock interviews.

ANDERSEED PROGRAMME JOURNEY

8 weeks live + 4 weeks portfolio

One connected learning, evidence and career-positioning journey.

THE FURTHER YOU ARE, THE MORE YOU MAY RECOGNISE

The value is not pretending previous learning disappears. It is connecting what you already bring into one coherent BA capability.

Where learning becomes evidence you can explain.

The difficult part of changing careers is rarely learning another definition. It is showing that you can use what you know across a connected delivery journey.
